INTRODUCTION

2025 LEGISLATIVE SESSION OVERVIEW

The 2025 Florida Legislative Session began on March 4, once again bringing forward a slate of bills with the potential to impact the millions of Floridians living in community associations significantly. The ripple effects of the sweeping statutory changes enacted in response to the 2021 Champlain Towers South tragedy continue to shape proposed legislation and regulatory priorities.

This year, the central question was whether the proposed bills would offer meaningful relief or place additional burdens on communities already grappling with complex compliance challenges. While numerous bills were introduced—some extensively amended through the legislative process and others tabled with little movement—one major bill emerged as a focal point.

House Bill 913, also known as the Condominium and Cooperative Bill,” was signed into law and brings substantial changes to various sections of the Condominium Act. At 191 pages, the bill represents a significant shift in governance, financial oversight and structural accountability for associations across the state.

Our firm created this resource to provide a clear and accessible summary of the most impactful provisions of HB 913. Additionally, we provide brief overviews of less comprehensive bills that were enacted during the session. We invite you to explore this summary and hope it serves as a helpful guide to understanding the legislative changes now facing Florida’s condominium and cooperative communities.

This is a brief overview of the significant changes. Readers should contact their association's legal counsel for clarification and a more extensive review of the legislative changes engrossed this year.
